Interior Official to Look Into Oil Situation.

Arrival Eagerly Awaited by California Men.

Condition Here Regarded as Menacing Interests.

The activity of the oil men of California in organizing to protect their rights is already beginning to bear fruit.

An official announcement came from Washington yesterday that Franklin S. Pierce, First Assistant Secretary of the Interior, will visit the California oil fields next month to investigate the oil situation so far as it relates to the public domain. In regard to his proposed visit, the Associated Press announcement says:

"Mr. Pierce will seek light on what legislation should be recommended in regard to these oil lands. He will be in Bakersfield and vicinity about the middle of next month."

"The situation which Mr. Pierce will look into is regarded as menacing."

Purport to Be Atonement for Ancient Crime.

Case Has Been in Courts
These Many Years.

Judge Wellborn of the United States Circuit Court yesterday put an end to a sensational suit which has been pending for years when he sustained the demurrer to the complaint in the case of Melissa Zink Funk against the executors of Theodore P. Bunnell.

The suit was based on three notes which purport to have been given in atonement for a wrong done to a young girl, and harkens back to early days.

The notes and their explanations, alleged to be in the handwriting of Bunnell, tell a strange story. They tell of injury inflicted on a child in a storm of passion and of the underlying love which grew out of an attempt to steal the girl's virtue.

Bunnell is alleged to have

Horace R. Boynton,
President of the California Club, who died early last evening in the California Hospital.

THE END. ES WHILE UNDER KNIFE.

BOYNTON PASSES AWAY ON OPERATING TABLE.

Head of Large Mercantile Inand President of California
Club, Died Due to Blood Poisoning From Having Teeth
Pulled of the Young.

Horace R. Boynton, president of the California Club, and president of the California Mercantile Association, died last evening in the California Hospital, while undergoing an operation.

The cause of Mr. Boynton's death was blood poisoning, due to the teeth from which suffering for some time ago Mr. Boynton had pulled and the wounds properly.

He suffered from blood poisoning, though his condition was considered dangerous until Wednesday, when he was taken to the hospital. An operation was decided upon and was performed last evening.

Mr. Boynton was born at Waterville, Me., and came here in 1884. He was in the mercantile business and before he became cashier of the California Club, he was president of the California Mercantile Association.

He was particularly a friend to young men. It was always his policy to advance the young men in his employ as rapidly as possible and he thus surrounded himself with a corps of energetic, loyal aids.

Mr. Boynton leaves a widow and six children. His three daughters, Mary, Julia and Bessie are at home. One son, Horace R. Boynton, Jr., is a student at Yale. Two other sons, Fred and Henry, are away on vacation trips.

Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

LOOKING FOR DYNAMITERS.

Police Believe Conspiracy
Outside Plot.

Notorious Labor Union Pal
Sought for Here.

Eastern Methods Used With Explosive Found.

Evidence, which has come to light during the past twenty-four hours, indicates that the dastardly attempt at dynamiting the new Hall of Records discovered and frustrated last Friday has its roots in a conspiracy much more serious than was at first supposed.

There is every reason to believe that the instigators of the plot so far from depending upon their own hands, resorted to the use of ignorant and plant tools to do their dirty work for them.

To the end of establishing this supposed identity, a well-known miner, man, perfectly familiar with both "Jok" Connors and with his record, was taken to the City Jail yesterday to see the man held under arrest.

It has been the belief of the authorities that the Connors, who was caught and arrested while skulking near the Hall of Records late Thursday night, is identical with the notorious "Jack" Connors, known through the length and breadth of the western mining sections as a rank union dynamiter and desperado. Even indication has pointed to the fact that the placing of the dynamite, the printing and setting of the cap and fuse were done by a man familiar with the use of explosives.

Shown the dynamite, fuse and cap found by Patrolman Kiersey near the elevator in the Hall of Records, the man gave it as his opinion that while it was the work of an expert hand, it was never laid by a western miner. The manner of applying the fuse and the fuse itself, he said, was that of the coal-miners of Pennsylvania.

The dynamite itself he declared, to be of a different character from that employed in the mines of Arizona and Nevada, having been made by the use of a solution of nitro-glycerine in the mines of the West. Altogether he gave it as his belief that the charge was laid and primed by some one imported from the eastern fields for the purpose of investigating the case said last night.

One of the officers now engaged in investigating the case said last night that, in his opinion, the Connors was a little more than a cold paw, used and thrown aside by the cleverer associates, and that the origin of the plot is to be sought elsewhere. That the real "Jack" Connors is in the city and has been here for several days, there is no doubt in the minds of the authorities.

Inquiry by the officers in the hands of the union ruff-ruff established the fact that both Connors and a man known as "Red" Gallagher, had been seen there within twelve hours of the dynamiting of the Hall of Records. This in spite of the fact that both are supposed to be employed in mines far removed from Los Angeles.

Connors is described as a man of stocky build, about 5 feet 5 inches height, weighing about 180 pounds. He has a nose of curly black hair, bushy eyebrows, deep-set eyes, a bulldog jaw. His associate, "Red" Gallagher, is a cadaverous individual of about 50, 5 feet 7 inches in height, 145 pounds in weight, brown eyes and a fiery red moustache.

Both men are known as labor-union trouble-fomenters of the most virulent type. Connors was a prominent figure in the miners' strike at Bull Hill and Cripple Creek a number of years ago and is said to have been driven out of Nevada as a result of his part in labor troubles there. His reputation, according to desert men, is of the worst.

Gallagher is an ex-prize fighter, expert dynamiter, labor agitator and generally a fitting associate for his present companion. The records of both, according to men familiar with them, are strongly reminiscent of the tactics of the notorious "Molly" Maguire and his gang of dynamiters, Black Hand men and desperadoes who terrorized the Pennsylvania coal fields more than thirty years ago.

While a number of several hours last night failed to locate the pair, the authorities have strong hope of being able to lay hands upon them.

BIG FINANCIERS COMING.
Distinguished Speakers to Address Bankers' Convention Here Next Month.

About 500 bankers, with their friend from the East and South, have already engaged accommodations on the special train to be run to the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, to be held in Los Angeles October 3 to 7, next. The program for the convention here is substantial as follows:

Monday, October 3: General registration for the association.

First day convention, Tuesday. Convention called to order at 10 o'clock a.m. sharp by President Louis E. Pearson.

Wednesday: Morning and evening sessions; trust company section and organization of secretaries.

Thursday: Morning and afternoon sessions; savings bank section, clearinghouse section.

The meeting of the new Executive Council will be held at Choral Hall, the Auditorium, immediately following the adjournment of the convention should it adjourn at a reasonable hour otherwise at 8 o'clock p.m. The Executive Committee, which comprises the executive officers of the association, cannot at this time announce who the names of the distinguished guests who will make addresses before the convention, except in the case of Dr. Benjamin H. Wheeler, president of the University of California, Berkeley, whose subject will be "The Bankers' Problem."

Los Angeles Times "Wants" or Classified "Liners"

A well-equipped Information Bureau, in charge of courteous attendants, is maintained by The Times for the dissemination of literature concerning Southern California, its railroads, hotels, resorts and all points of interest. Hotel and railroad rates and other miscellaneous information are cheerfully furnished by the Information Bureau. Call, write or phone; address "Information Bureau."

The "Information Bureau" is centrally located in The Times Branch Office, 531-533 South Spring Street.

In the Los Angeles Times may be found daily, in the "Liners" columns, listed for sale City Homes, Suburban and Country Property, including Grain and Stock Ranches, Orange Groves, and all kinds of farming property.

In its "To Let" columns, announcements of Houses, Rooms, Lands, Farms, Orchards, to Lease or Rent and covering the whole State, appear in classified form.

Under the head of "Business Chances" are printed daily many attractive announcements to people who are looking for business openings.

Not all of these announcements of property for sale or to let are from the city of Los Angeles or Southern California, but many come from towns and communities all over Central California, and some from the Northern sections of the State.

Not all the papers printed in all the cities of Southern California combined print half the number of this class of announcements as does the Los Angeles Times, nor do any three papers of the Pacific Coast combined print as large a volume as The Times prints. The classified advertising pages of the Los Angeles Times have become the arena where active people, who "do things" in the great and growing Southwest, meet to tell their "wants." Those who want to hire help, to secure positions, male or female, to buy, lease, sell, rent, loan, exchange, swap, barter or trade anything at all, from a mine to a mud, an oil well to an orange grove, get satisfaction here. As a trading center, it beats Farwell Hall in Boston, Wall Street in New York, or the Corn Exchange in Chicago. It is the commercial mart of the Southern Empire.

The stranger and homeseeker just coming to the Pacific Coast may, by the frequent perusal of these columns, more thoroughly familiarize himself with the varied and growing business interests of the Coast than he can do in any other way, and they are "mighty interesting" readings. The Times is the largest paper printed on the Pacific Coast in number of pages, in volume of advertising, and in columns of reading matter. The quality speaks for itself.

Room for All Pupils in the City Schools.

New Manual Arts High School Relieves Pressure.

Many Teachers Transferred
by the Board.

Yesterday was one of the most auspicious school-opening days in the history of the city. For many years there has been a rush of pupils to the high schools, the line-up during the past four years beginning on Saturday night prior to opening at the Polytechnic High School. Yesterday all this was eliminated by the completion of the splendid new Manual Arts High School, which took in about 1000 pupils, relieving the pressure on "Poly." The latter took in practically its full quota of 2000, and all the elementary schools, including several new buildings and additions to many of the old ones, making a total of 29 buildings, with more than 1200 teachers, took in all who applied, and left no room to spare.

This result, notwithstanding an increase of over 10,000 pupils over last year, and a total enrollment this year of about 60,000, is worthy of congratulation.

City Superintendent Francis and the deputies last night expressed themselves as much pleased at the close of the first day, for it meant that the school was always carried with it a quinquary as to what was to be done with the boys and girls who were clamoring at the doors when they were closed at sundown on the initial day.

Contrary to the expectation of some of the educators, the effect of the Manual Arts High School was felt more seriously at the Los Angeles High School than at Polytechnic, as there is yet considerable room in the school on the hill, which is also scheduled to receive.

NO MOVING PICTURES.

Many curious propositions find their way into the city Board of Education, and it is not uncommon for somebody to ask use of the buildings for entertainment purposes, about the time school closes for the year. Yesterday, the first day of school, Mrs. Evelyn G. Dwyer asked to be permitted to put a moving-picture show in the schools of the city, shifting it about from one school to another. There was a disposition to laugh the proposition down, and file it, but the secretary was finally directed to decline with thanks.

The proposition of the electric trolley to erect car barns on the south side of Agricultural Park, immediately opposite the new Manual Arts High School, on Vermont avenue, came before the board for discussion last night. A resolution was adopted to the effect that it would be detrimental to the school, and President Root and the Building Committee will appear at the hearing before the City Council this afternoon to protest against the building of the barns, which is equivalent to favoring the condemnation of the property to be added to the park.

A delegation from that portion of the Tropic school district annexed to the city with East Hollywood was present to know where their children were to attend school. A resolution was passed transferring them back to the Tropic school.

OF INTEREST TO TEACHERS.

W. L. Travis was transferred from the Los Angeles High School to the principalship of the Wilmington High School; Ida E. Carrick was assigned as teacher of commercial branches in the Wilmington High School; C. E. Palmer assigned as its head; W. D. Williams was assigned as teacher of foundry work.

GOOD ROADS BONDS.
The Highway Commissioners yesterday renewed a request of a month ago to the Board of Supervisors to advertise for sale $25,000 worth of good roads bonds. The commissioners assert that preparations for disposing of the bonds must be made soon or the work of improving the highways is likely to be seriously delayed for lack of funds.
